Karl Stumpp: Die Luebecker Traulisten

Luebeck, amongst many other cities, was a gathering place for people emigrating to Russia. For various reasons their stay in those cities was prolonged (frozen rivers, not enough money, not enough room on ships etc.).

During these long stays there were baptisms but mainly weddings. Even though places from where they emigrated from were not given, many of these names point to the regions of origin.

Most strongly represented are the regions of: Wetterau, Vogelsberg, Spessart, Rhoe, Odenwald i.e. Hessen-Darmstadt, Hanau-Fulda-Wuerzburg regions, then Isenburg, Erbach, Solms, Loewenstein, Schlitz, Lauterbach.

Lesser the regions of Pfalz and the Southwest. Wuerttemberg is least represented in this emigration, since there was an emigration prohibition.

Thuringen emigrants mainly came from the Weimar, Eisenach & Meiningen region, in Hessen almost entire villages (Herrenhaag) or for the larger part (Stockhausen) were depopulated.

NOTE:

It should be noted that the data concerned in this Luebeck marriage data, occurred about the same time frame people were starting their Volga migration in mid 1760s. So if a researcher uses the data on this file along with the "Stumpp book" for the Volga folks listed there, it will be found that there is a good match of data on this list with the book, but it should also be noted that this data does not appear to represent all of the data that was included in "Der Wanderweg der Russlanddeutsche Jahrbuch 1939 der Hauptstelle f.d. Sippenkunde d. Deutschtums im Ausland" It is therefore wise if we can pursue finding a copy of this publication to gain the rest of this information - so it may be added to this listing as reflected below.

It is intended that this film be incorporated into the German Russian collection of films held at GRHS Headquarters in Bismarck ND. Copies of the film can be obtained from the National Archives.

(About GRHS Clearing House - DAI film Indexing project.) There exists far too much data on these films to completely Index everything. Many of the items that are indexed will only take you to a portion of a film - where the researcher must ensure they look around for other family data as well or more details about the person that brought them to a film.
